CROWD JAMMING AUDITORIUM CHEERS COLONEL ON AS HE FLAYS AND DEFILES HIS FOES

"Go at Them Teddy" Greet Declaration Convention's Action Based On Votes of Fraudulently Seated Delegates Won't Bind Party

"OUTRAGE TO HAVE DEAD BOSSES STEAL VICTORY"

Chicago, June 17.—On the eve of the republican national convention, Col. Roosevelt tonight disclosed the line of attack he will make. He laid down two principles. He said the delegates whose selection he contests must not vote in the organization of the convention or upon the settlement of contests and made it clear that he would resist it. He declared that no action of the convention based upon the votes of "these fraudulently seated delegates would be binding upon the republican party."

It was at the Roosevelt rally in the auditorium that the ex-president made his challenge. He was facing a cheering throng, which jammed the huge building as tightly as the fire marshal would permit. Present were delegates from every part of the country. Roosevelt leaders and a host of private in the Roosevelt army. They gave the ex-president a mighty welcome. Col. Roosevelt made a fighting speech. His hearers were in fighting mood. They cheered him on as he denounced his opponents and shouted to him:

"Go at them, Teddy," "knock out the steam roller," "hit 'em again!" Long before Col. Roosevelt reached the auditorium every seat was taken. Outside the building were thousands unable to get in. Two hundred policemen pressed them back.

Senator Bryan made a speech while the crowd was waiting for Col. Roosevelt. His remarks were brought to an untimely end when the people leaped to their feet with a yell, "The colonel has come."

It was nearly four minutes later when the uproarious welcome subsided.

The colonel stood on the platform, waved his hands and smiled. Crowd Goes Crazy.

The crowd was eager to cheer. Col. Roosevelt was constantly interrupted during his speech with storms of applause. He frequently departed during his prepared speech for an extemporaneous thrust which brought the people to their feet, shouting and waving flags, which were handed to each person on entering the hall.

"I made my fight square and fair in the open and I won," he said. "I don't intend that my opponents shall cheat me out of it."

The colonel gave a new definition of the national committee. "The national committee," he exclaimed, "who are they? About fifty people with the rule of honesty ranging from about 14 to 20 and the remaining thirty are things-men."

Col. Roosevelt began to call the roll of some of his most prominent opponents. At the first name he made a groan come from the crowd. The next name the groan became a roar. To preserve peace, the colonel gave up his roll call. He said that his chief opponents on the national committee were men who had been repudiated in their own states.

"It is bad enough," he continued, "to have the victory stolen by the bosses that are living but it is an added outrage to have it stolen by bosses that are among the unburied dead."

When Col. Roosevelt said that any action of the convention, if brought about by the votes of delegates fraudulently seated, would not be binding upon the party there was the wildest outburst of applause of the crowd. The crowd leaped up with a shout and refused to be quieted, despite the colonel's attempt to continue.

"They asked for the sword," said he when at last he could make himself heard. "They shall have it."

Col. Roosevelt made it plain in a sentence which he interjected that the decisive test in the convention probably would be made on the vote for temporary chairman.

He appealed to "every delegate elected for Mr. Taft who is an honest man," to stand with his supporters in organizing the convention.

Col. Roosevelt spoke as follows: "My friends and fellow citizens: I address you as my fellow Republicans, but I also primarily address you as fellow Americans, for this has now become much more than an ordinary party fight. The issue is both simpler and larger than that involved in any factional, or any ordinary party contest. We are standing for the great fundamental rights upon which all successful free government must be based. We are standing for elementary decency in politics. We are fighting for honesty against naked robbery; and where robbery is concerned the all-

WOMAN FLYER KILLED BY FALL

MRS. JULIA CLARK DIES WHEN BIPLANE CRASHES AT SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—Mrs. Julia Clark of Denver, Colorado, one of the three licensed women aviators in the United States, was killed while making a practice flight in a biplane at the state fair grounds tonight. Her machine brushed a tree as she ascended and toppling, crashed to the ground. The young woman's skull was fractured. She died soon after being rushed to a hospital.

SECOND WOMAN FLYER TO DIE

First Killed in Air Accident, Woman
Bernard of France.

Chicago, June 17.—Mrs. Julia Clark was a Chicago girl who became interested in aviation during the international aviation meet in Chicago in August, 1911. She became acquainted with the fliers and last fall went to San Diego, California, to learn to operate a biplane.

In this she was successful and was the third American woman to obtain an international aviation pilot license. With several other aviators she was under contract to fill a series of engagements in the central west this summer. Two weeks ago in Milwaukee she was not permitted to fly because the authorities considered the machine she then had ready to use unsafe. It three had been overhauled and was considered sound. Though holding a license she had not flown by herself for several months.

Mrs. Clark is the second woman to be killed in aeroplane accidents. The other was Miss Suzanne Bernard who lost her life at the Farnham school at Pau, France, about two months ago.

GOOD OLD FASHIONED RAIN LASTS ALL NIGHT

JUST IN TIME TO HELP CORN, WITHOUT HURTING SMALL GRAIN OR COTTON.

Just in time to put the finishing touches on a coming good corn crop, without doing any damage to small grain or cotton, a good, old-fashioned, root-cooking, gully-washing rain struck Waco last night at 11 o'clock, and came to stay all night. The first stages of the storm were accompanied by considerable lightning and some wind, but no serious damage had been reported up to 4 o'clock this morning. At that hour it was still raining, with no prospect of an immediate abatement.

Crop experts stated last night that the moisture was most timely and assured practically all crops in this section.

NEW MEXICO GOVERNOR SAYS HE'LL STOP ROUP

Albuquerque, N. M., June 17.—Gov. McDonald, who refused to be quoted in the matter tonight, let it be known that he would attempt to prevent the Flynn-Johnson fight at Las Vegas on July 4.

MEMBER OF LEBES STAFF MEETS DEATH

Alexandria, Va., June 17.—Major Eli H. Janney, field quartermaster on the staff of Gen. Robert E. Lee during the civil war, died here last night in his eightieth year. Major Janney was the inventor of a car coupler in general use on steam railroads.

COLONEL STARTS THE FIGHT

PLAN TO THROW OUT ALL DELEGATES FRAUDULENTLY SEATED BY COMMITTEE.

Despite Claims, Neither Side Sure It Can Control When Test Comes Today.

By The Associated Press. Chicago, June 17.—While still declaring Col. Roosevelt will control the republican national convention and be nominated on the first ballot, Roosevelt leaders spend today working out details of their plan of attack on the Taft program as outlined last night. There was no talk of "stampede" among the Taft forces today. The president's adherents asserted that their control of the convention through the delegates seated by the national committee could not be menaced by the strategy of the Roosevelt managers.

Moderation was counseled in the two warring camps throughout the day and had its effect. There were occasional flashes of fire and charges of "treachery" and "fraud" from the Roosevelt forces, offset by charges of "bribery" and "corruption" from Taft headquarters, but it was everywhere agreed that on the surface the day had been one of the quietest immediately preceding a convention in years.

Everything Uncertain. Tonight Taft leaders were continuing a "council of war" begun early in the day, while Roosevelt people were whooping things up at a mass meeting in the auditorium theater where Col. Roosevelt addressed a cheering mass of humanity. The doors of the theater had been besieged for hours before they were opened and it seemed that half of the police force of Chicago had been thrown about the approaches to the building.

Uncertainty as to the result of the convention was as prevalent tonight as at any time since republican leaders came to Chicago, and neither Taft nor Roosevelt headquarters were certain as to the number of delegates they could depend upon with any degree of certainty.

One thing appeared certain, that if there is to be a bolt, it is a long way off and will come only after every expedient of strategy and parliamentary practice has been exhausted by trained and resourceful fighters. The element among Roosevelt supporters who counseled moderation among their associates had the satisfaction of apparently defending the plan to force a motion for the nomination of Roosevelt. The moment Acting Chairman Roosevelt should refuse to entertain the proposition of substituting a Roosevelt list of delegates for the list reported by the national committee. Although Col. Roosevelt in his speech at the auditorium came as close to suggesting a bolt as at any time during his campaign, it has been tentatively decided by his leaders to fight to the end, through all of the parliamentary channels open to them before taking any radical step.

"Can't Bind Republicans." Col. Roosevelt asserted that men "fraudulently put on the temporary roll by the dishonest action of the majority of the national committee must not be allowed to vote on their own cases, or to vote on one another's."

Then he added: "It is the duty of all honest members of the convention to fight that action from the moment the convention assembles. It is our duty to the rank and file of the republican party; it is our duty to the people of this country to insist that no action of the convention which is based on the votes of these fraudulently seated delegates, binds the republican party or imposes any obligation upon any republican."

This outline of the Roosevelt campaign coming from the colonel himself served to set at rest all doubt as to a change of program from that decided upon at a conference of the Roosevelt leaders last night—"to fight from the drop of the hat."

The Roosevelt leaders are going to attempt from the very start to move on to appeal their case to the convention itself, minus the contested delegates seated by the national committee. Taft forces are going to insist that the proceedings shall move strictly according to precedent.

Both Sides Nervous. On the eve of the convention both sides were plainly nervous. It was difficult enough for them to reach any sort of conclusion as to how the delegates would finally line up and next to impossible to determine just what delegates could be depended on to put through the preliminary program. Some of the delegates instructed for Col. Roosevelt, it was known, would not support all the moves made by his steering committee on the convention floor while it appeared equally true that many of the Taft delegates did not feel obligated to support his managers on

DEATH COMES TO CAPT. M. B. DAVIS

END PEACEFUL, AS BEFITS DIS- SOLUTION OF MAN UNAFRAID OF ETERNITY.

End-Time Newspaper Man, Confederate Veteran and Ex-State Ranger of Early Days.

Captain M. B. Davis Sr. died at 2 o'clock this morning. No announcement that could be made would create such universal sadness in Waco, Captain Davis being one of the most beloved citizens of the city. He had devoted the greater part of his sixty-six years to Texas, the south and the city of his choice. His big heart harbored none but the purest of thoughts, his deeds were all performed in the interest of others; God's birds and beasts shared in the largeness of his soul, and his later years were devoted largely to the interests of the National Audubon society, the Humane society and other philanthropic works.

Death followed an illness of three weeks, the end coming peacefully, as befitted the laying down of a life that had been dedicated to good deeds—the gentle dissolution of a man who was not afraid to face his Maker. Captain Davis had a severe illness during the winter and had never been strong since. Old wounds acquired during the war had their share in the general debility of the once sturdy old frame, and when stricken three weeks ago he did not have the vigor to make another fight.

Confederate Veteran. When the civil war broke out Captain Davis was quick to enlist for the cause he believed to be right, and there was no better soldier, nor more loyal comrade, in the ranks of the confederacy. He all but gave up his life to this cause, and in all the suffering that came to him afterward as the result of his wounds, no word of bitterness or regret was ever heard to pass his lips.

After the war, in the frontier days of Texas, he did his share in subduing the Indians and lawless element that made the state a hell of the criminals of the world. As a member of the old Texas rangers he was known as a fearless officer and an untiring worker in the interest of civilization.

Old-Time Newspaper Man. Finally drifted to Waco and embarked in the newspaper business, and in the ups and downs of the game in this city he has always been the central figure. He invested most of his worldly goods and the product of his brilliant brain in many ventures in the newspaper field in Waco. He labored on papers that none of the younger generation knows existed—the Examiner, the Day, the Globe, the News, and, latterly, the Times-Herald. For many years he was a staff man on the Dallas News, and when too old to longer perform the duties he was retired on full pay as a recognition of his faithful and at times brilliant work.

In the passing of Captain M. B. Davis not one Waco citizen but will feel a personal heart throb of sadness; none who will not join in a prayerful "God rest his soul."

C. H. TUPPER ACQUIRES TITLE TO MORNING NEWS

The Daily Real Estate and Court Reporter, issued by Ray C. Pollock, secretary of the Waco Real Estate Exchange, yesterday contained the following:

Tupper, and release of said mortgage has been filed by C. H. Tupper, thus passing absolute title and ownership of The Waco Morning News to Mr. Tupper. C. H. Tupper has sold his half interest in the San Angelo morning and evening papers to accomplish this result, and acquired role and absolute title to the Waco Morning News."

The Sailors and Firemen's union is the strongest body in the national federation of transport workers, and the decision reached by its members practically puts an end to the dock strike.

SENATOR CULBERSON IN BALTI- MORE PREPARING COMING OF WILSON MEN.

Doesn't Think Convention Should Ab- rogate Two-thirds Rule This Time.

Baltimore, June 17.—Adherents of Speaker Clark for the presidential nomination came out today and made it known that they would make no fight on the temporary chairmanship, and that any man worthy of the office would be agreeable to them. Senator Stone said that while he believed nine out of ten democrats were for the abrogation of the two-thirds rule for nomination, he did not believe any action would be taken to ward that end at this convention. The high cost of living is to be the subject of one of the principal planks in the platform. The national committee men say this is an issue already made, and the party is urged to take definite action on the question.

Senator Culbertson of Texas was in Baltimore today to look after the accommodations for 190 Wilson boomers who are coming from Texas. Discussing the question of whether the two-thirds rule should be changed, Senator Culbertson said: "The rule should stand with the present convention. If it is to be changed, it should be taken up at this convention, discussed, and then placed before the democrats of the country, state by state, for their decision. The rule should not be changed unless the change is ratified by the democratic majority of the states."

TO SPEAK FOR UNDERWOOD.

W. Bankhead Will Place Him in Nomination.

Washington, June 17.—Representative Underwood of Alabama will be placed in nomination for president at the Baltimore convention by W. Bankhead of Jasper, Alabama, former member of the state legislature, and will be seconded by J. Randolph Anderson of Savannah, Ga.

Nebraska Delegates Flay Rosewater for Action in Committee

Chicago, June 17.—While delegates to the republican national convention were not in conference with party leaders, following brass bands around the streets, shouting for their choice for the nomination, or engaging in many other strenuous occupations, state delegations held caucuses today.

At the Nebraska meeting the sixteen delegates signed a resolution condemning Victor Rosewater for his actions as chairman of the national committee during the hearing of contests.

"The republicans of Nebraska have been humiliated," they state, "by the actions of our national committee man, Mr. Victor Rosewater, who has been personally repudiated by the republicans of our state, and who did not represent the wishes or the voice of the republican party of Nebraska in the deliberations of the national committee. We condemn and repudiate in the strongest terms his actions."

There was a brisk fight in the caucus against the adoption of more bitter resolutions, and the foregoing was accepted as a compromise.

RYAN LEAVES FLYNN.

Las Vegas, N. M., June 17.—Tommy Ryan, retired middleweight champion, today resigned as trainer in the camp of Jim Flynn, who is to meet Jack Johnson here July 4. There has been no harmony between Ryan and Flynn since the arrival of the trainer and a disagreement arose between Ryan and Curley. The cause of the disagreement is not known.

Roosevelt Caucus Early This Morning Decrees Nothing Less Shall Bind Convention; Cum- mins Men Will Help, Says Kenyon

DRASTIC ACTION FOLLOWS FIGHTING TALK OF COLONEL

TEXAS TAFITES RUN ROLLER OVER LYON MEN

PUT THROUGH SLATE WITH TEN ROOSEVELT DELEGATES SITTING SILENT.

Chicago, June 17.—The Texas Taft delegates today ran a steam roller over the ten Roosevelt members of their delegation. They were thirty of the Taft men, and early in the day they invited the Roosevelt adherents to caucus with them. The invitation being refused, the Taft men met and fixed a slate, eliminating Col. Cecil A. Lyon as national committeeman and naming H. F. MacGregor. Then they sat down and waited.

A second invitation was sent to the Roosevelt camp, Judge C. K. McDowell especially inviting Col. Lyon. "Attend my own funeral!" Col. Lyon exploded. "I reckon not. I have no business there anyhow."

At 4 o'clock ten Roosevelt delegates came into the meeting, singly and in groups. Then the slate was put through, with the ten sitting silent. Later the Roosevelt men met and framed resolutions of protest against the action, which they expect to present to the convention. Results in the caucus of the Texas delegation were: John E. Elgin, for permanent organization; rules and order of business, P. E. Baer; credentials, C. A. Warnke; platform and resolutions, W. M. McDonald; national committeeman, H. F. MacGregor.

With a national committeeman still to be chosen by the New York delegation, the caucus selected M. C. Davey for permanent organization.

ADMITTED TRUST PAID LESS THAN INDEPENDENTS

Bridge Concern Head Let Out of Bag at Conference IS TESTIFIED

New York, June 17.—"Hatfield let the cat out of the bag and told the independents that the American Bridge company was paying for raw material one-tenth of a cent a pound less than the independents," testified Foster Milliken at the hearing today in the government's dissolution suit against the United States Steel corporation. "Schwab tried to coach him to change his remarks, but it was too late."

The meeting at which this was done, Mr. Milliken testified, was one of the officers of the independent concerns which had merged with the American company and Charles M. Schwab and Joshua Hatfield for the so-called bridge trust. The meeting took place in Mr. Schwab's office in 1906. Mr. Milliken testified "and all the independents got was a jolly."

"Who handed the jolly?" he was asked.

"Mr. Schwab."

This was shortly after the independent concerns had sold out to the American company, Mr. Milliken continued.

The witness said his own firm was among these concerns. The combination, he said, was handling about 80 per cent of the heavy steel business of the country.

ONE MORE ADDED TO TORNADO DEATH LIST

Kansas City, June 17.—One more victim was added to the death list of the tornado that passed over central west Missouri late Saturday, when Mrs. Henry Cameron of Merwin, Mo., died of her injuries today.

Mrs. Wm. Tucker and Miss Pines Todd of Merwin are believed to have been fatally hurt.

LUNA PARK'S FOUNDER GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

New York, June 17.—Frederick Thompson, founder of Luna Park and the New York Hippodrome, went into voluntary bankruptcy in the federal court of Brooklyn, giving his liabilities as $664,854.99, and his assets, some of which are doubtful, as $7,831.96.

Los Angeles, June 17.—There was no session today of the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged bribery, owing to the illness of Attorney Earl Rogers and H. H. Appel of the defense. A continuance was taken until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Chicago, June 18.—The Roosevelt delegates in caucus early this morning voted that it was the sense of the meeting that nothing less than 540 of the uncontested delegates could be regarded as a binding majority of the republican national convention. The delegates were frankly told by the leaders, it is said, that they did not have enough votes to control the convention as constituted by the national committee, which seated so many of the contested Taft delegates. It was then that the Roosevelt delegates decided on this drastic action.

Changes Situation. The midnight conference completely changed the situation from what it had been earlier in the evening. Col. Roosevelt's speech at the Auditorium theater, urging his followers to fight "from the front" and the uproarious approval given his fighting words outweighed the counsel of moderate members of the Roosevelt faction.

R. R. McCormick of Chicago, one of the Illinois delegates and a Roosevelt leader, was asked if the resolution did not forecast a certain bolt of the Roosevelt forces.

"This resolution would prevent a bolt; it was designed for that purpose, because if 540 delegates vote on temporary organization, you then have a convention and there could be no bolt."

The resolution, it was said, will be introduced in the convention immediately after it is called to order.

All Support Resolution.

The resolution in full, which was unanimously supported by delegates from nearly every state carried by Roosevelt, is as follows: "Resolved, That no election of temporary or other officers of this convention, or other proceedings, shall be taken as the act of this convention or have any effect unless it shall receive the affirmative vote of 540 delegates whose seats are uncontested, and this resolution shall govern and be in force during the temporary organization of this convention and until the permanent organization thereof shall have been effected."

Looks Good to Kenyon.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa was routed out of bed after midnight and called into the Roosevelt conference. The latest proposal was submitted. He expressed the view that it was a fair one, that the ten Cummins delegates from Iowa would support the proposition and that in his opinion the thirty-six La Follette delegates from Wisconsin and North Dakota would also. He said he believed it would be a good idea to hold up the convention proceedings for a while to give the people a chance for a "sober second thought" on the subject.

All this time the Wisconsin delegation was in caucus. At 1:30 a. m. they adjourned, to meet this morning.

Taft supporters did not hear of the action of the Roosevelt delegates until some time later, and no plan had been made to combat the new line of attack. It was believed, however, they would urge Chairman Rosewater not to entertain the resolution.

"Bully," says T. R.

When Mr. Roosevelt was acquainted with the action of his supporters, he said:

"Bully for them. I think I will have to shake hand with those delegates again."

STANDARD OIL VICE PRESIDENT ON STAND

Received Stock in all Companies as Trust Disolution, He Testifies.

New York, June 17.—James A. Moffatt, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, former head of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and a director and officer of a number of Standard Oil subsidiaries before the dissolution of the trust, was questioned today at the hearing of the suit brought by the Standard against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company to prevent Waters-Pierce interests from throwing out proxies voted at the annual election in St. Louis.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests, asked Mr. Moffatt if he received stock in all of the companies at the time of the dissolution. The witness replied that he did.

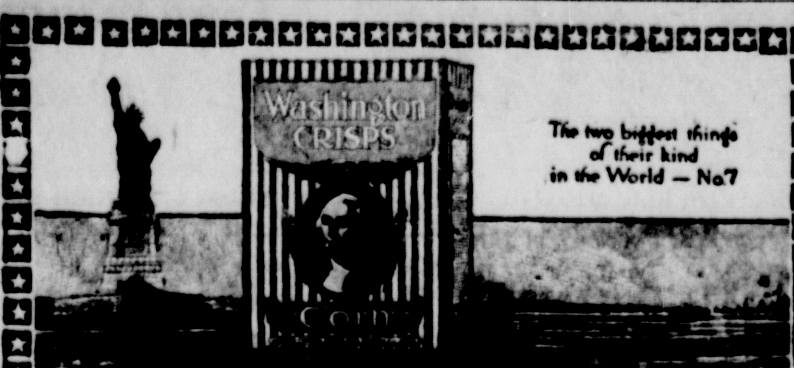

"And you vote at every election of the former subsidiaries?"

"That's right."

"And when the 34 subsidiaries were let go you and the other officers got together and selected the officers for the subsidiaries?"

Mr. Moffatt did not remember but later admitted some of the directors of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey "may have arranged" for officers and directors of the various former subsidiaries. Names of men who made such arrangements he could not remember.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH IS SEVERE ARRAIGNMENT OF TAFT

Important question is not the identity of the man robbed, but the crime itself.

Issue Not Partisan.

As far as Mr. Taft and I are personally concerned, it little matters what the fate of either may be. But with Mr. Taft's acquiescence, or by his rejection, in his interest, his followers have raised an issue which is all important to this country. It is not a partisan issue; it is a great moral issue. If we condone political theft, if we do not resent the kinds of wrong and injustice that will injuriously affect the whole nation, that not merely our Democratic form of government, but our civilization, itself, can endure if methods adopted by the national committee are approved by the convention, which is about to assemble, a great crime will have been committed. The triumph of such proceedings at the moment would mean the wreck of the Republican party, and if such proceedings become habitual it would mean the wreck of popular government.

The actions of the Taft leaders in the national committee, taken with the active aid of Mr. Taft's private secretary, and of one of Mr. Taft's cabinet officers, are monstrous, and they should be indignantly condemned by the moral sentiment of the whole country. Tonight we come together to protest against a crime which strikes straight at the heart of every principle of political decency and honesty, a crime which represents treason to the people, and the usurpation of the sovereignty of the people of irresponsible political bosses, inspired by the sinister influence of moneyed privilege.

Fighting for All.

We, here, in this hall, are engaged not only in a fight for the rights of every decent Republican, we are engaged in a fight for every decent American, whatever his party may be. And, Oh, my friends, for one thing at least we should be profoundly grateful. We are more fortunate than our fathers in that there is not the slightest tinge of sectionalism in the fight we are now waging. The principles for which we stand are as vital for the south as for the north, for the east as for the west. We make our appeal to all honest, far-sighted and patriotic Americans no matter where they may dwell.

"When, in February last, I made up my mind that it was my duty to enter this fight, it was after long and careful deliberation. I have become more convinced that Mr. Taft had definitely and completely abandoned the cause of the people and had surrendered himself to the bid-dings of professional political bosses, and of the great privileged interests standing beside them. I had almost become convinced that unless I did make the fight, it would not be at all, and that Mr. Taft's nomination would come to him without serious opposition. The event has justified both my beliefs. I very earnestly ask our fellow progressives who have supported other candidates to remember that one of the cardinal principles of the doctrines which we hold in common is our duty in all good faith to abide by the honestly expressed action of a majority.

Majority for Me.

"The overwhelming majority of the Republican progressives have declared for me. It has become clear beyond shadow of a doubt, that if I had not made the progressive fight it would have completely broken down, and there would have been no substantial opposition to the forces of reaction, and of political crookedness. Let those progressives who stand for principle and who are concerned with the fortunes of any particular man only as a means for securing the triumph of principle ponder these facts and refrain in this crisis from playing into the hands of our enemies.

"Mr. Taft, at first, denied that he represented the bosses. His denial was of little consequence, for his deeds belied his words. But I doubt if at present he would venture to repeat the denial. As it has become constantly more and more evident that the people are against him, he has more and more undignifiedly thrown himself into the arms of the bosses. Here in Chicago, at this moment, he has never had a chance of success save what was given him by the action of Messrs. Crane, Barnes, Brooker, Penrose, Murphy, Guggenheim, Mulvane, Smoot, New and their associates in cheating the people out of their rights.

Relied on Committee.

"He was beaten so overwhelmingly by the people themselves in the states where the primaries were held that in the last state in which he spoke, in New Jersey, he permitted himself to be betrayed in the frank admission that he expected to be nominated because he believed the national committee would stand by him. One member of his own cabinet, representing a state that has just repudiated him, has been working hand-in-glove with the other Taft members of the national committee under the lead of Mr. Crane of Massachusetts, Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, Mr. Mulvane of Kansas, Mr. Murphy of New Jersey and Mr. Scott of West Virginia, all of whom have just been repudiated by their own states, to steal from the people the victory which the people have won.

"Last February it was evident that Mr. Taft was the accepted representative of the bosses of the men who uphold the combination of crooked politics and crooked business, which has been the choice source, not only of our political, but of our social and industrial corruption. It has now, alas, become evident that Mr. Taft is willing to acquiesce in and to condone any and all the fruits of any course of action of which these men embark, even though such action represent treason as well as destruction to the Republican party, to which they nominally belong, and also treason to the cause of the American people as a whole.

Among the national committee.

men who have taken part in this conspiracy there are a number of men who in the ordinary relations of life are doubtless decent and reputable. Probably these men excuse themselves to themselves for what they are now doing on the ground that they are not committing what the law recognizes as a crime. It may well be doubted whether, on the whole, our country does not suffer from the misdeeds of men who recognize as binding on their consciences only the obligations of law honesty, than it suffers from the misdeeds of actual criminals.

"Men like Messrs. Crane of Massachusetts, Brooker of Connecticut and Nagel of Missouri, who trail behind their bolder associates, such as Messrs. Penrose, Murphy and Mulvane, are doubtless genuinely shocked at the misconduct of a defaulting bank cashier, or at the action of some small election official, who on election day falsifies the returns, yet the wrong to the American people, the damage to the country by such action as these national committeemen have taken in deliberately seeking to nullify and overthrow the will of the people legitimately expressed as their choice for president, is infinitely greater than the wrong done by the tempted cashier or the bribed election official.

Slow to Grasp Distinction.

"It has to me been both a sad and a strange thing to see men hitherto esteemed reputable take part in such action and to see it sustained by the similar men outside. I suppose the explanation must be found in the fact that in the slow but moral advance certain men lag a little behind the rate of progress of the community as a whole; and where their own real or fancied interests are concerned such men fail to recognize generally accepted standards of right and wrong until long after they have been recognized by the majority of their fellows. There was a period when piracy and wrecking were esteemed honorable occupations, and long after the community as a whole had grown to condemn them they were still backward persons who failed to regard them as improper.

"In the same way as late as thirty years ago there were men in public life who, while they would refuse to receive a bribe, did not think it objectionable to give a bribe; although now the sentiment in the community has grown so strong that it is no longer possible to excuse the bribe-taker any more than the bribe-taker.

Stealing Election, Clever.

"In the same way there are still in certain parts of this country representatives of a class far from uncommon a quarter of a century ago, a class which regards an election as a game without rules, in which it is merely a sign of cleverness to swindle and cheat. Evidently the majority of the men whose actions we complain of on the national committee still occupy this attitude toward nominations, although some of them may have passed beyond it, as regards elections.

"But on the committee and associated with the men who assume to be respectable there are certain representatives of Mr. Taft whose presence gives us cause to wonder why there are not far worse influences behind the action of the committee than at which I have gazed.

"Mr. Stevenson of Colorado has appeared on the committee, now holding the proxy of one of Mr. Taft's delegates, now that of another, Judge Ben B. Lindsey, in his book, 'The Beast and the Jungle,' has given a very graphic account of Mr. Stevenson's political activities in Denver.

"I very greatly wish that every decent man in this country, every plain, right-thinking citizen who is in doubt as to what the representatives of Mr. Taft have done on the national committee would read this book of Judge Lindsey's. In especial, let him study the part in which Judge Lindsey refers to Mr. Stevenson, and then let him think for himself just what it means when Mr. Taft and his associates accept the help of Mr. Stevenson and imports him from his own state of Colorado to act for other states on the national committee.

"Our opponents here in Chicago to-day have waged such a bitter and unscrupulous fight for the very reason that this is no ordinary factional contest. The big bosses who control the nation represent not merely the lead captains of mercenary politics, but the great crooked financiers who stand behind these lead captains.

"These political bosses are obnoxious to themselves, but they are more obnoxious because they represent privileges in its most sordid and dangerous form. The majority of the national committee in deciding the cases before them, have practiced political theft in every form, from highway robbery to petty larceny; and political theft is as dishonest as, and more damaging than, ordinary theft. There is no law to reach the offenses they are committed, but these are far more serious from a standpoint of national interest than any of the ordinary commercial or political offenses which expose the perpetrators to be

The committeemen responsible for such action need to be taught that the national committee was created to be the servant and not the master of the men and women who make up the bulk of the Republican party. The party belongs to the millions of the rank and file. It does not belong to the handful of politicians who have assumed fraudulently to upset the will of the rank and file.

Committee Not Regular.

"The action of these men is in no sense regular, as they claim it to be. They in no way represent the people; they in no way represent the rank and file of the Republican party, and their dishonesty cannot give and never can give a title to regularity. One thousand and seventy-eight men to meet here in convention to decide the future of the Republican party. At least seven out of eight of those among them who really represent the people are against the nomination of Mr. Taft. It is the duty of all of them, their first duty, to throw out of the convention every man fraudulently seated there by the national committee. The fraudulent Taft delegates whom the national committee seated, for instance from California, from Washington, from Indiana, from Kentucky, from Michigan, from Arizona, from Alabama, from Texas, represent nothing but the deliberate attempt by certain discredited bosses to upset the free and honest expression of the people's will.

Beaten by Voters.

"These fraudulent Taft delegates were beaten by the voters of Washington, of California, of Texas, of Arizona, of Indiana, of Kentucky— and then they were seated by the people of their own states, in Massachusetts, Tennessee, in West Virginia, in Kansas, in Missouri. Messrs. Crane, Penrose and company were so discredited in the eyes of the Republicans of their own states that they were beaten as delegates to the convention, and yet they arrogate to themselves the right to seat in the convention the delegates from the states of Washington, California, Arizona, Texas, and the rest have just been beaten at the polls.

"If the convention proves false to the cause of the people, if it records the will of the bosses, whether yet unbeaten in New York and Colorado, or beaten in Massachusetts and New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Kansas, it will wreck the Republican party, it will put back the cause of democracy, it will be false to every principle of honor and justice. It cannot with honesty and propriety stand in any shape or way for the action of the national committee, neither by accepting that committee's nominee for temporary chairman nor by accepting its decision as to the seating and unseating of contested delegations.

"The majority of the national committee have acted with deliberate dishonesty; a majority composed nearly half of politicians from territories and states that never cast a republican electoral vote and nearly half of politicians who have just been repudiated at open primaries by the people of their own states, has stolen from the rank and file of the republicans from 60 to 80 lawfully elected delegates, has substituted for them an equal number of fraudulent delegates, not elected by the people and claims the right to nullify the will of the people by placing these fraudulent delegates on the temporary roll call of the national convention with the hope of thereby controlling it in the interest of a candidate and bosses whom the people have just now emphatically repudiated.

"This attempt to bind the convention by an act of deliberate dishonesty, this attempt to defraud of their rights the plain citizens of the republican party, by the bosses whom that party has just repudiated, brings in question certain elementary principles, which lie at the foundation, not only of party procedure and party organization but of free government and social order.

"I hold that the convention itself is of right the only judge of the qualifications of its own members. From Washington, California, Arizona, Texas, Kentucky, Indiana, Alabama and certain other states, the people elected certain delegates, who are legally and morally entitled to sit in the convention. The discredited politicians making up the majority of the national committee, with the determination to nullify the will of the people, have substituted for those men certain others who have not the slightest claim to seats in the convention.

"A minority of the national committee composed of honorable men, who have voted on every case strictly on its merits have in each case protested strongly against the action of the majority, showing beyond the shadow of doubt that the men whom the temporary roll call of the majority are entitled to seats, by every consideration of law and morals.

"I have carefully examined the facts in these cases myself and I say to you that there is no element of doubt that the men in question were honorably and lawfully chosen by the people and that the effort of the majority to unseat them represents nothing but naked theft, carried on with the sole and evil purpose of dishonestly substituting the will of the bosses for the deliberately expressed judgment of the people.

"It is for the convention itself to decide these cases; and by the convention, I mean the lawfully elected members of the convention. The men fraudulently put on the temporary roll by the dishonest action of the majority of the national committee must not be allowed to vote on their own cases—and to al-

MANILA TO BOSTON IN TRIP OF TWO INFANTS.

Boy Aged 6 and Girl Aged 4 Journey Alone Half Way Around the World.

Special to The Morning News.

San Francisco, June 17.—Labeled for shipment to Boston, Mass., two little tots, the pets of the ship, arrived today on the steamer Nile on the second leg of their journey half way round the world. They are 6-year-old Frank Cronin and his sister Marie, 4 years old, and all the baggage-masters along the line attend strictly to business the pair will reach the home of their grandfather, 68 Jackson street, Boston, within a week. At present the immigration officials have the children in their care.

Frank wore the regulation tattered boy's knickerbockers and a blue waist. Marie was attired in a blue gingham slip and a sunbonnet. Around the neck of each a shipment tag was tied.

On the way over the members of an opera company gave a performance for the benefit of the youngsters and $85 was collected from the passengers.

The children are too young to know much of their family history. When asked about their mother the little girl replied:

"Oh, pap did not like mamma and he sent her away."

The juvenile globe trotters were sent from Manila to Hong Kong by their father and then shipped across the sea in care of the Pacific Mail Steamship company.

MANY GUESTS ARRIVING FOR FRAZIER-ADAMS WEDDING

This afternoon the Central Christian church will be opened for the friends of Miss Mildred Adams and Frank Frazier of Morgan, for a 5 o'clock marriage ceremony. Among these will be a large contingent from out of town. Some have already come and others are expected on today's trains. Those who will show this respect to the bride and the groom are: Miss Helen Garrison of Austin, Dr. John Frazier of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moss, Frazier and Joseph Moss, from Hico; Mr. and Mrs. Will Ansell from Morgan; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hatcher of Hillsboro, Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Booth of Corsicana, Miss Anna Frazier of Morgan, Dr. Jacob Frazier with Miss Emily and Virginia Frazier of Belton, Rufus Tidwell of Morgan, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Tom Frazier of Morgan. Immediately after the service, there will be a departure of the bride and groom on their wedding trip.

SOCIETY HAS FULL DAY IN PROSPECT FOR TUESDAY

It is midsummer to be true, yet society is on the crest of the week's gaiety with today. There is the wedding of Miss Mildred Adams to Frank Frazier of Morgan in the afternoon.

In the evening, Miss Louise Lattimore becomes the bride of C. F. Peoples of Chicago. In the Washington street home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. R. Lattimore.

Mrs. Ira Seley is hostess for the Tuesday bridge in the afternoon.

Mrs. R. G. Patton and Miss Mattie Jones present that guest, Miss Woodford from Maryland, and compliment Misses Early and Brown as bride to be, out at the Huaco Club this morning.

Among the college set, the Fidgety Five are entertaining out at Cameron Park.

Miss Jane Moore entertains with morning cards in compliment to Mrs. J. W. Bondurant of Dallas, and Mrs. Fred Tennant of Dallas. This all gives quite a surprising social register of a sizzling summer day.

PRETTY DALLAS WEDDING OF INTEREST LOCALLY

Mrs. H. W. Carver is just returned from Dallas, where she went to attend the marriage of her sister, Miss Carrie Williams. The bride visited Mrs. Carver in the early part of the winter season. Indeed, she was the inspiration for Mrs. Carver's beautiful musical, and her exceptionally sweet voice was in demand for other gatherings during her visit. She is now Mrs. Herbert Lountree, mistress of her own pretty household. The gift of the groom's mother, the wedding service was full of music in token of the bride's talent. The choral number was sung by fifteen of her girl friends. The decorative theme was white and green in keeping with the summer season. There was an after reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Williams. Several ante nuptial courtesies marked this wedding, among them being some beautiful showers. Mr. and Mrs. Rountree are having their wedding trip to Colorado.

WOMEN SHOULD STUDY PEACE MOVEMENT EVERYWHERE

It is inexcusable that so many women should drift along with the days heeding nothing of what constitutes the more progressive. This thought is forced by the telegram that there is now speeding across the Atlantic and then the great American continent a woman who brings the message of what all women should do to bring about a universal peace. This woman is the Baroness Bertha von Suttner, a woman who is known as "The Princess of her life is among high circles, a life where women, as a rule, do not feel the burden of these problems in the welfare of humanity. Yet, the Baroness has become so enthused over what women owe to this movement that she is willing to travel ten thousand miles, to tell the American women what she has to say. If a woman can do this from the pure impulse of the human belief's welfare, is there not enough to inspire the average woman that she should give this subject some thought? The Baroness addresses the general federation women from every state in the union. Who more than the present women realize this terrible thing of war? Think of the condition of many women today who might be in affluence had there been no dreadful strife between the states. Furthermore, these are women who are widows earning their daily bread because this same war took their husbands. Children are struggling without education because the war deprived them of faith-

er. Suffering, poverty, death, is the asset of war.

There was the time when men were little above the barbarous. They had not come to think; they knew no alternative for settling differences but the musket. Hence, there was nothing but to fight it out. Centuries later, and even into our own time, there was the settling of the personal difference through the duelist's pistol. But that time is past. Men are now enlightened. They are supposed to have more of the humane feeling. If men, why not women? It is the world cry, give us peace. Is it not time for women to think? Can not every woman read on this subject and talk to her rising young son? Can there not come the cry from the women as well as the men—give us the universal peace. Arbitrate differences. Save our hearthstone. Preserve our loved ones. The Baroness is the apostle.

CARDS WITH MISS ERLE EVANS FOR MRS. TENNANT OF DALLAS

Monday morning found a number of invited friends with Miss Erle Evans who formed a bridge party in compliment to Mrs. Fred Tennant of Dallas. The typical home of the Old South with its spacious hall and rooms made one of the agreeable features of this game, while Miss Evans had anticipated with provisions for a highly enjoyable hour. The prizes in waiting were an ivory guard, a cloisonne pin, and a special piece of lingerie for Mrs. Tennant. These were won by Mrs. E. J. Cordes and Miss Jane Moore. A salad plate with cooling dainties made the refreshment service. In entertaining, Miss Evans made a merry little hostess, and afforded an unusually pleasant opening for the week's social diversion. Her guests were: Misses Jane Moore, Ruth Evans with Mesdames Cortine, Tennant, Bondurant of Tyler, Dickson of Chicago, Montgomery of Belton, Archer of San Antonio, Claton of Oklahoma, De Steiguer of San Marcos, Loraine Roberts, C. M. Clisbee, William Holt, William Mistrot, M. C. H. Park, Bart Moore, Shell Sparks, Turner Hubby, W. P. Beaumont, Joseph Cornett.

THE SEASON FOR CHILDREN: TEACH THEM CORRECT FORM

It is all very amusing to read of the blunders in society of the nouveau riche as we term them. But, behind the amusing feature, there is really something of pathos. That woman who commits the blunder was once a child, and her mother taught her nothing. Perhaps the child of today will commit the same. If the mother take no precaution. The blunder is, that, now the little folks are enjoying their season of parties. Play parties, as they are called, the most of them are. Perhaps, an occasional birthday is celebrated. What does the mother do? She fastens the little girl's frock, and she ties the party bow on her hair, and send the child off, with her duty done. Not a word of counsel as to what is the proper thing for that child. And the mother of the little hostess prepares the ice cream with never a thought of preparing the child's mind for the proper entertainment of her little friends. The very moment a child attends a party is the moment to begin training her for social amenities. This does not mean superficial ideas, altogether out of keeping with childish life. It means those simple acts of thought and courtesy which make up social life. Suppose the little daughter receives a gift. If she is old enough to receive, she is certainly old enough to extend thanks in a little note or telephone message. If the little daughter receives an invitation she is never too small to acknowledge it. Trained to these observances, almost from the cradle, that child will never commit the blunders which are now so amusing to the readers of the joke columns.

Society Notes.

Mrs. Dunbeck, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. Silas Newton, leaves for her home in Texas on Wednesday. This is preparatory to her going to a summer home in Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirksey, who are now in Houston, will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Ross at Seabrook before their return to San Antonio.

It is not a telling phrase—no has a splendid talent for perspiring?

There is expected momentarily the cable from Miss Josephine Fosque announcing the arrival of her party at Havre. This will include the Misses Rose and Miss Patterson.

Mrs. A. Symes and Miss Neil Symes are preparing for an early June departure for the Symes ranch near Lubbock. In the near future there will be a permanent removal.

One thing leads to another. It is now the avowed intention of Judge Lyle not to cease until he has persuaded the Daughters of the Republic to float a Texas flag out at Cameron Park. The move is timely. While we all revere Old Glory, we are still more proud of the Lone Star banner. Doubtless if Judge Lyle begins the move, he will find hearty response.

Do let us see that the new season does not arrive and find some of our past year's social obligations still uncancelled. We are too prone to be neglected of the small courtesies in our social life.

Mr. and Mrs. William Neale are leaving soon to spend some time at Battle Creek, Michigan.

Frank Dickey, now of Marlin, is at the sanitarium here for an operation which was performed on Monday. The patient is resting very satisfactorily. In the meantime, Mrs. Dickey is up from Marlin, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Bolivar Nettles on Fourteenth near Jefferson.

Let us encourage the names for distinctive localities. This imparts more of a metropolitan air to our little city. Besides, it is done everywhere else. In the old country even the individual house bears its especial name. In the old ante bellum days, this was the same. Other cities in America follow the custom. Why not Waco? Especially in this appropriate to social observances.

And now it is all out. The story is confessed. The staid, dignified matrons are sailing down the chutes out at Cameron Park.

Miss Lalla Fay Lacy is one of the first to declare her intentions for the coming winter. This is, that she will matriculate at Gunston Hall, Washington City, from which her sister, Miss Stella Lacy, has just graduated.

Really, the women should avail themselves of the excellent addresses of Dr. Dutton from Columbia University, who is now with the Baylor Summer School. He is well worth the hearing, and Baylor compliments the public with his lectures.

These jaded little automobile caps which the girls have commenced to wear are just as becoming as can be. Suppose all the girls got them. They have been worn some time it is true, but this does not prevent their becomingness, and general jaunty grace.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Patton are preparing for a midsummer departure for New York City. Their Austin street home will be closed in the meantime.

Before their homegoing, Misses Rowell of Jefferson were complimented by Mrs. G. B. Fosque with a small company of girls and other pleasant afternoon detail.

We must disabuse our minds of the thought that every invitation received means a present. Some send this with the best of good will and are embarrassed when the present is received. Let the present be the prompting of the heart—if one really feels that she should like to give such, it is proper to do so. Otherwise, the invitation does not exact it.

There are instances numerous during the last school closing period that students have refrained from sending any cards at all lest they be considered as expecting the gift otherwise, it would have been their pleasure to remember friends.

And July brides multiply—four so far proclaimed for high life society. The woman at the bargain counter has certainly had her inning this June. And, tell it gently, the men have boasted a few bargains, too.

WATCHES HAVE NERVES.

The watch is scarcely less sensitive than the razor, sympathy being the special virtue. There are people who cannot get a watch to keep regular habits, however careful they may be about winding, carrying, keeping warm at night and so on. Their nerves exercise a deplorably unsettling effect on the mechanism. The writer has had this experience with his pocket watches which had a previous unbroken record of regularity.

Matters.

Not a ripple occurred to mar the serenity of the session of the county democratic executive committee which was held in the corporation court room at the city hall at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The meeting was harmonious throughout and much good feeling prevailed. It was decided that a double primary entailed an unnecessary expense to the people, and therefore should not be held, thus only one election and a plurality will be necessary in McLennan county to decide as to who shall serve the "dear people." J. F. Cook, a candidate, was the only avowed champion of the double-action primary. Chairman E. C. Street presided at the meeting, while Secretary W. B. Saunders kept the minutes.

Executive committee members were named as chairmen of the respective voting boxes.

The positions of the various names on the ballot were arranged by drawings, and resulted as follows:

For representative, place No. 1, W. A. Alexander, H. P. Jordan, J. A. Stewart; place No. 2, N. B. Williams, Sidney O'Brien; district judge, Tom McCullough, Marshall Surratt; county attorney, Frank B. Tiley, W. H. Forrester, John B. McNamara; county treasurer, Lon Wortham, D. F. Kinnannon, R. E. Payne, G. M. Yarbrough; county clerk, John W. Baker, Will Elshelberger, W. C. McCollum; district clerk, R. V. McClain, J. P. Cook, W. A. Walters; county judge, Geo. N. Denton, D. A. Walker, sheriff, Ed Costley, S. S. Fleming, Geo. W. Tiley, Bob Buchanan; constable, Frank Mooney, Leslie Stegall; justice of the peace, Dan Ford, W. G. Weaver, J. D. Willis, J. J. ("Dad") Paget; public weigher, Henry Hooper, J. C. Cagle, Sem Nix.

A candidate for the last named place at the festive board failed to qualify, in that he neglected to register by Saturday, as the law requires. He said he was of the impression that yesterday was the last day for performing the duty.

The following amounts were fixed for the respective offices: Legislature $7.50, district judge $50, district clerk $35, county judge $45, county attorney $45, sheriff $45, tax collector $50, tax assessor $50, county treasurer $22.50, county surveyor $5, county superintendent of public instruction $20, county commissioner $10, justice of the peace precinct No. 1, place No. 1, $25, nomination No. 2, $20, constable, same precinct, No. 2, $10, constable, same precinct, $7.50, public weigher, same precinct, $7.50, justice of the peace, precinct No. 3, $7.50, constable, same precinct, $7.50, justice of the peace, precinct No. 4, $2.50, constable, same precinct, $4, public weigher, same precinct, $17.50, justice of the peace, precinct No. 6, $3, constable, same precinct, $3, public weigher, same precinct, $12.50, justice of the peace, precinct No. 7, $3, constable, same precinct, $3, public weigher, same precinct, $10, justice of the peace, precinct No. 8, $3, constable, same precinct, $4, public weigher, same precinct, $10.

AUTO WRECKS HACK*AND KEEPS ON GOING

A horse attached to a hack of the Alexander line was knocked down and two passengers were badly shaken up when an auto collided with the vehicle at the corner of Fifth and Austin streets about 10:30 o'clock last night. The near-thrilling accident was witnessed by a large number of passers-by, a number of whom expressed surprise that no serious consequences resulted. The driver of the car, according to witnesses, did not stop his machine to inquire the extent of the damage.

Witnesses say the number on the auto was 613, which, according to the register in the county clerk's office, is owned by R. L. Cartwright.

RAIN IN PANHANDLE.

By The Associated Press.
Wichita Falls, Tex., June 17.—Reports received here this morning indicate that last night's rains extended over the entire Panhandle and Northwestern Texas. Good rains fell along the Fort Worth & Denver as far north as Amarillo and along the Wichita Valley from Wichita Falls to Abilene. The Wichita Falls & Northwestern reports heavy rains along its line clear across Oklahoma to the Kansas line, the precipitation ranging from one to two inches. The rain came just in time to save the corn crop and will to interfere with wheat and oats threatening, which is now in full blast.

AFTER OPENING ADVANCE*MARLY GAIN LOST AS RESULT
OF REALIZING—WEATHER
REPORTS A FACTOR.

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 17.—An opening advance in the cotton market today was lost as a result of heavy realizing, and the close was steady, but at a net decline of 1 to 4 points. The market opened firm at an advance of 9 to 12 points in response to relatively firmer Liverpool cables, big English spot sales and a private crop report indicating a deterioration of a little less than 1 per cent in the condition of the crop since the government report was made up to the end of last month. Realizing was extremely heavy on this advance, which carried prices back to within 4 or 5 points of the high levels Saturday, and the market eased off to a shade under the close of the previous night in consequence. Favorable weather in the belt over Sunday probably inspired part of the strength, but as it had been the last week, the bulk of the pressure was said to reflect a reduction of some of the leading long lines. Whenever this feeling slackened the market showed a disposition to rally, and at one time during the middle of the day worked 3 or 4 points net higher, but later weakened again on rumors that some of the domestic mills were offering to resell small amounts of high grade cotton. Closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON DOWN.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, June 17.—Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points. At the end of the first under Thursday's final quotations. At Saturday's last quotations, the afternoon the market was dull and prices had a sagging tendency. At 2 o'clock the trading months were 8 to 9 points under Saturday's close. Futures closed steady at a net decline of 5 to 7 points.

FACE FRONT OR TAKE RISK, MANIFESTO TO FEMALES

Court Rules Regarding the Manner of Women Alighting From the Cars.

Special to The Morning News.
Columbus, Ohio, June 17.—Attention, women: If you alight from a car facing with your back to the motorman and you are injured as a result, you cannot recover on the damage done.

This was the decision yesterday handed down by the supreme court of Ohio. The ruling was made in the case of Marie Feeney of Youngstown, Ohio, who was seeking redress from the Mahoning Valley Railroad company. The decision affirms the lower courts, and is as follows: "When a woman steps backward from a moving street car and is injured, she is entitled to no damage."

Laying for Him.
"Does your wife want you to work for woman's suffrage?"
"No; I think she wants me to oppose it. My wife hunts trouble."

PACKERS WILL 'BUST' OWN TRUST

WICKERSHAM SUSPENDS ACTION
WHEN HE HEARS COMPANY WILL DISSOLVE.

Meat Kings Expect to Have Ready
Aug. 1 Definite Plan to Disintegrate.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Attorney General Wickersham was advised today that the National Packing Company would be voluntarily dissolved by the beef packers by August first. In view of this action, Mr. Wickersham announced that the government would hold in abeyance the civil suit which it proposed to bring against the company to compel its disintegration.

Mr. Wickersham was notified of the "beef trust's" intention to dissolve by James A. Fowler, assistant to the attorney general, who returned to Washington today from Chicago. The packers, it is said, expect to have ready a definite plan by August 1, or in case they find themselves unable to agree upon a basis of dissolution, they will advise the department of justice of that fact by August 1. In the latter event the proposed civil suit under the Sherman law, it is intimated, will be filed.

This move comes after several governmental attacks upon the "trust." The house judiciary committee a few days ago decided to investigate the industry. As soon as the packers were acquitted in their recent trial at Chicago, of criminal violation of the Sherman law, the attorney general turned his attention toward a civil suit for the dissolution of the National Packing Company, through which it was charged, the packers acted in concert. A previous similar suit was dismissed by the government during the pendency of the criminal proceedings.

About a month ago Mr. Wickersham was informed that the packers proposed voluntarily steps in the nature of disintegration. To give the meat interests time to meet the issue in a friendly way the attorney general arrested the filing of the petition in equity. The department of justice informed the packing company a week ago, however, that it was time to display its intention. The result was today's announcement.

The National Packing Company is a $15,000,000 corporation, owning some of the largest packing companies in the world. As it is owned by the big Armour, Swift and Morris interests, according to the government's contention, the company is the agency for controlling the meat industry.

TEACHERS INVITED TO HEAR DR. DUTTON

NOTED LECTURER AT BAYLOR
THIS WEEK—ROUND TABLE DISCUSSIONS.

Dr. S. T. Dutton, of the Teachers' College, Columbia University, delivers a series of lectures this week at Baylor University. These lectures will be delivered from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. daily and from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesday and Thursday. In addition to the regular lectures there will be several round-table conferences held under the large oak trees on the campus two or three afternoons this week, the exact hour to be announced later.

The first of these lectures was delivered yesterday morning. The lecture dealt chiefly with the influences that affect our systems of education, the results growing out of the attitude of our own National and State Governments, and the effects of various systems of foreign education were dwelt upon at some length. The address was listened to by a large and appreciative audience.

Dr. Brooks extends a cordial invitation to all the teachers of Waco to attend these lectures and Supt. Lattimore urges all public school teachers in the city to avail themselves of this opportunity and not to miss one of these lectures.

Dr. Dutton is an author and lecturer of national reputation and all who hear him will be greatly benefited.

OLD WOMAN MURDERED; GRANDSON TAKES POISON

FACING CAPTURE BY POSSE.
JEFFERSON, IND., YOUTH
KILLS SELF.

By The Associated Press.

Jeffersonville, Ind., June 17.—Tragic sequel to the criminal assault and murder of Mary Louise Kelly, 75 years old, came this afternoon when her grandson, George Kelly, aged 29, swallowed poison as a posse of officers was about to capture him in a river bottom thick with reeds.

He died in a few minutes. Stabbed through the neck and badly scratched, the body of the old woman was found in a bed in her humble cottage two miles from here last midnight. Evidence showed she had been criminally assaulted and the criminal had torn the clothes from her, probably after she was dead, laid them on a chair and placed the body in bed. Her savings, $100, were gone.

George Kelly lived with his grandmother, as did her son, who discovered the crime. The former had been at the house during the day and could not be found after the crime had been committed. During the night officers picked up his trail and hunted him through the river bottoms. Several times they seemed close to the fugitive but couldn't catch a glimpse of him. Late this afternoon one of the men saw him and with leveled pistols, the possemen started after the youth. He plunged into a dense thicket.

Fearing he might fire, the officers proceeded carefully and soon stumbled upon the boy's writhing form. Afraid he was shamming and might attack the officers, they watched him closely as the writhing ceased and he died. Still believing nothing was the matter with the prisoner, the officers called a coroner before removing the body. He was pronounced dead and the body brought here.

CABINET OF A PRINCE FOUND IN A FARMHOUSE

Was Made for Eldest Son of Henry
VIII of England's Tudor Line.

Special to The Morning News.

London, June 17.—The most remarkable historical "find" of recent years is an oak cabinet which belonged to Prince Arthur, eldest son of Henry VII, and which has been discovered in an old farmhouse near Ludlow, Shropshire. It has been purchased and presented by Robert Mond to the Victoria and Albert museum.

The acquisition of this relic was announced yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting of the National Art Collections Fund, held at Burlington House.

The cabinet, which was exhibited at the meeting, is actually a liver cupboard. It stands slightly over five feet high, and has beautifully carved panel doors, the central one containing an elaborately designed "A." The interior of the cabinet once covered the whole exterior.

Originally it was made for Prince Arthur, and was used either at Ludlow castle or Twickenham manor, where the boy prince brought his 15-year-old bride, Catherine of Aragon. Five months after this romantic marriage he sickened of the plague while on the way to Ludlow castle, where he died in April, 1502. Catherine afterward married his brother, who became Henry VIII.

The history of the chest from that day is unknown until a few weeks ago it was found by a small country dealer in a farmhouse near Ludlow. At first it was supposed to be only an old piece without any exceptional interest, but one of the officials of the Victoria and Albert museum found it to be of priceless value.

COULDN'T GET TO BARN, TIED UP SEVEN TRAINS.

Special to The Morning News.

Owner Drives on Tracks of Illinois Traction System and Paralyzes Traffic.

Special to The Morning News.

St. Louis, June 17.—E. G. Gorman, a paint manufacturer of Madison, Ill., paralyzed northbound traffic on the Illinois Traction system an hour and a half yesterday because the traction system switched two coal cars so that Gorman could not get into his barn.

Gorman's barn stands beside a switch track running near the main northbound line of the traction system. Late Saturday Gorman drove home from his office and found access to the barn was blocked. He telephoned the traction company's offices, demanding the cars be removed instantly. Then he waited.

The cars were not moved, so Gorman telephoned again and received other and more definite assurances. He waited again, but the cars were not moved. Then he considered patience had ceased to be a virtue. He drove his team across the main track, crossed his legs and waited for developments.

As the trains came along he refused to move, until seven trains were tied up. The company officers were notified and a motor was hastily dispatched and removed the coal cars.

MOST POWERFUL POISON.

The most powerful poison known is reported to have been extracted by a German chemist from the seeds of the ricinus, the familiar castor oil plant, and has been attracting much attention on account of its remarkable qualities. Its power is estimated to be so great that a gram—about a third of an ounce—would kill a million and a half guinea pigs. If administered so as to cause severe illness without death, it gives immunity against a larger quantity, and the dose can be gradually increased until more than 1,000 times as much can be endured as would kill an untreated animal. Though arsenic, morphine and other poisons can be taken in larger and larger quantity, nothing approaching this marvelous increase in dose can be borne. The ricinus poison has effects much like those of living germs, and in immunized animals an antitoxin is formed, so that injections of their blood serum may cure animals that are already in danger or have become ill from ricinus poisoning. 15 use is for emergency cases, when a sailor or passenger falls overboard at sea. To provide for an emergency of this kind, one or more boats are always kept so that they can be launched at a moment's notice, as considerable time would be lost if the tarpaulin coverings had to be removed as with the regular lifeboat. A safety device, which has given excellent satisfaction, is a device for releasing life rings fore and aft, both on the port and starboard side of the vessel. As soon as the news of "man overboard" reaches the bridge, either by the "wig-wag" or the ship's telephone, the officer on duty gives one turn of a valve and the life rings are automatically released. After they have all reached the water a red electric light flashes up at the top of the apparatus, showing that the mechanism has performed its duty. 15

ONE ON RICHARD HARDING. Richard Harding Davis is being sued for divorce. We had not heard of Richard in some time. His reappearance in public recalls a disaster which befell him several years ago. In 1898 he was in the very zenith of his fame, and it was as much as the earth could do to hold him. He went to a Washington hotel and registered "Richard Harding Davis, New York City, and Valet." Along came James O'Brien Moore of West Virginia, who had graduated from a newspaper office into an important commission in the volunteer army. He looked at the Davis signature and then recorded on the register of Washington's swellest hotel in the blackest of ink and the plainest script: "James O'Brien Moore, Lieutenant-Colonel Second West Virginia Regiment, Greenville, S. # Editorial Page of Waco Morning News

Yesterday we had the pleasure of an automobile trip into the valley of the Brazos, and were charmed with the beautiful crops and the picturesque hills, the undulating valleys, the winding gashes between the cedar-covered hills, the golden grain shocked in the fields, the long stretches of white roadway scaling the hills and dipping into the fertile valleys below. Texas has some very pretty scenery, and along the Brazos there are many places of scenic loveliness, if we will just take the trouble to take a real good look at them as we pass along. One of the most exquisitely beautiful sights that we have seen in many a day is a view down into a valley surrounded by cedar-crowned hills. It burst into view as we rose on the crest of the hill, just before the winding road starts upon its journey into the lowlands. There was the fertile valley, carpeted with different colored crops. There was the golden grain in different tints and shades of yellow, green corn waving its plumed head, meadows of grass of different hues, kaffir corn and sorghum, long rows of cotton, comfortable homes nestling at the foot of the hills in the shade of tall trees, and through it all running the road like a white ribbon, and the Brazos river in the distance, lined with its stretch of timber, slowly wending its way to the gulf. This was a picture long to be remembered, one fit for the brush of an artist of renown, vibrant with color, throbbing and pulsing with life. Abundant crops mean happiness and prosperity, and the everlasting hills sing together when they look down upon rich fields full of maturing crops, ready for the harvester, waiting for the gleaners, to be marketed and exchanged for golden coin, with which to buy food and raiment and provide comforts and luxuries for our families and our friends.

Every day we are given examples of wretchedness, misfortune and poverty that should make us thankful that we have escaped. We are not as mindful as we should be of the many blessings that are ours. We not only do not remember these blessings, but we grumble about small discomforts and inconveniences, when we should be praising God, from whom all blessings flow, for His many mercies to us. We are sound in mind and members, have plenty to eat and enough to wear, have all our faculties complete, and can enjoy to the fullest extent all the glories of the universe and all the beauties of prodigal nature. We forget the crowded asylums, filled with many mental derelicts, from whose brain reason has fled and intelligence has flown, while we can think and reason sanely and sensibly, and are capable of mixing and mingling with our friends and can enjoy the pleasure of their sympathy and their interest. We have friends and loved ones, while there are thousands of unfortunates who have no family, and no real good friends to clasp them by the hand and encourage them to better deeds and greater effort. We can see and behold the wondrous beauties that are all around us, while the world is full of sightless eyes, that never beheld a fragrant flower nor even looked into the eyes of loved ones, where shone the exquisite light of affection. Each day that we are spared with all our faculties should be a day of thankfulness, for it is an easy thing to be the victim of an accident that would render us maimed, halt or blind.

When the dust and the sand blows up from the streets and burns and bites the eyes, and it is hot and sultry and the nerves are all a-tingle with the depression of the hot waves that beat down from the sky and sweep up from the streets, we must make allowance for one another and have patience with our lack of self-control. Summer days are trying on the nerves. Some of us can get away for a period of time to where it is cool and the air is bracing and refreshing, but there are thousands of people who have to continue to work on during the summer just like they do during the winter. They can never take a vacation until the summons comes to take the long, unknown journey. Let us not forget this fact, and always remember that they have more to bear, perhaps, than we have, and we should make some allowance for them when the sun's rays beat hot upon the pavements and the city is sweltering with the heat of long summer days.

McLennan county has good crops this year, and when they are all gathered and sold, Waco will get the benefit of a great deal of the cash that is received for them. This coming fall will be one of the most prosperous ones that Waco has ever had. With the coming of the fall there will also come increased real estate values and an upbuilding all along the line. Keep on boosting for Waco, for it will stand all the boosting that her citizens will give her. It is one of the best cities in Texas, surrounded by a fertile country, and it will pay ever one who pins his faith to the best city in central Texas.

When one begins to doubt the infinite power of God he should turn to the planets and the stars and contemplate the immensity of space. The distance to the various planets from the earth and the great gulf of space that lies between these various planets and stars is almost beyond the conception of humanity. This world is a very little piece of earth when compared with some of the great planets that are whirling through space at a tremendous rate of speed, governed by perfect law, moving along certain beaten orbits, on time to the minute, never colliding. It is a marvelous universe, and surely the mind that conceived it all and guides it all is capable of doing things that no mortal mind can possibly conceive.

Waco should urge the building of good roads throughout the county. Nothing pays better dividends than money invested in good roads. First-class pike roads are worth more to a county and to a city than more railroads, for they concentrate the business that is already developed. McLennan county ought to have as good roads as Dallas, Tarrant, Ellis and other counties.

In youth it is hard to realize that old age will come on apace, just like it is not easy to keep in mind that winter will come in due season, with its cold and stormy blasts, while the summer sun is beaming hot and the dust is flying in the streets, swept up by steaming winds.

FIRST STEEL AIRSHIP.
Germany is to have the first steel airship. If the plans of the association for motor airship traffic are successful, a Hanoverian engineer named Wuger has designed the plans for the novel craft, and it is now in course of construction. Not only is it different from all previous types of airships in the kind of metal used, but it possesses other distinguishing peculiarities of construction. One feature will be the adoption of the rigid system of building, and if it is a success, the new craft is expected to play an important part in the air fleet of the German army.

COLONEL TO START FIGHT

any other question. These facts threw an element of doubt in the situation and gave to every prospective move in the convention an uncertainty unknown in recent years in the republican party.

The Roosevelt plan tonight stood fully revealed and, but slightly changed from the tentative program approved last night. It is to force a roll call at the earliest opportunity on the proposition to "purge" the convention of the delegates "fraudulently seated by the national committee."

Failing in this, Mr. Roosevelt's people will submit to a temporary organization and then carry their fight before the committee on credentials, demanding that each case passed upon by the national committee be reheard. If defeated in this committee, it is the Roosevelt plan to take the contest to the floor of the convention and there to demand a further hearing on each case.

May Protect Convention.
This plan carried with it a threat to delay action in the credentials committee and in the convention for several days, throwing the final sessions of the convention into next week or later.

The Taft managers said they were not alarmed by this plan of campaign. They asserted they would control the committee on credentials and that the committee would make rules which would cut off long debates and bring the hearings on the contested cases to an early close. The committee, it was said, would throw out of consideration all the contests in which the vote of the national committee had been unanimous or nearly so.

The suggestion that these tactics might savor of the "steam roller" brought only a shrug of the shoulders. It was explained that the convention must proceed expeditiously and according to custom.

Pist Fights Unlikely.
As plans of the opposing forces took definite shape today all of the talk of physical violence in the convention seemed to die away. Fifty police took charge of the coliseum tonight, however, and Chief McWeeny announced that he had decided to increase the force on duty in the hall from 250 to 500 men.

Victor Rosewater, of Nebraska, chairman of the national committee, will call the convention to order promptly at noon tomorrow and will introduce the minister to offer the opening prayer. The proceedings up to this point, it is understood, will not be interrupted.

As soon as the prayer is concluded Mr. Rosewater will announce that in obedience to the will of the national committee he presents Elihu Root of New York as temporary chairman. A moment will be allowed for other nominations and Senator Borah of Idaho will be offered as the Roosevelt candidate. Gov. Hadley of Missouri, floor leader of Roosevelt forces, was promised recognition today by Chairman Rosewater, for all Roosevelt motions.

Although they have a contested case in Alabama, the Roosevelt leaders have chosen to make their first test on the California vote, characterizing that case as one of the "most flagrant of the attempts to thwart the will of the people."

Will Precipitate Fight.
Gov. Johnson of California, will attempt to cast the entire 26 votes of his state for Senator Borah. His right to do so will be challenged by the two Taft delegates from the fourth district, seated by the national committee. This will precipitate the fight and as an incident to it, the Roosevelt leaders are expected to move the substitution of a new roll for the temporary roll reported by the national committee, the motion to exclude all contested delegates from voting upon the proposition.

Chairman Rosewater, who spent much of the day in conference with members of the national committee and the executive council of Taft supporters has determined upon his course. He will assert that as chairman of the national committee he has no authority to entertain any motion whatsoever; that he has nothing to do with the convention itself and that the convention is in recess since the creature of the national committee. This solution was arrived at by Taft delegates tonight and it was asserted it would be adhered to through thick and thin.

Some of the more radical Roosevelt leaders, leaving of this plan, tonight, urged that this be the signal for the "break" and that they proceed forthwith to nominate Mr. Roosevelt. Moderate members of the Roosevelt council table urged that the temporary organization was not the convention itself and that the fire of the Roosevelt forces should be reserved for later in the session.

Wants Fight at Once.
This does not mean there will be an absence of fight from the fall of the gavel. Col. Roosevelt urged tonight that the fight begin at once and it will, but the first day may be confined to skirmishing.

It seemed certain tonight that Senator Root would be elected temporary chairman tomorrow over the protests and the votes of the Roosevelt men. The colonel went so far as to appear before the Illinois delegation in person and make a direct appeal to its instructed delegates to vote against the Taft candidate for presiding officer. It was reported later that 20 of the Illinois delegates, instructed for Roosevelt, would vote for Mr. Root. Gov. Deussen denied this and asserted that not more than 8 of the delegation would support him.

Senator Root was ill tonight. He could speak scarcely above a whisper but hoped to be in condition to make the opening address.

The Taft people tonight selected Former Representative James E. Watson of Indiana, as their floor leader to match with Governor Hadley of Missouri. Both chieftains will have a staff of assistants constantly at his side and some shrewd moves are expected.

Oklahoma Rebels.
The Taft headquarters issued statements tonight declaring nearly all delegates claimed last night by the Roosevelt people as having gone over to their side today had signed pledges of fealty to Taft.

An interesting sidelight on the tense situation was the action of the Roosevelt Oklahoma delegation today in defeating, 18 to 2, a motion to bind the delegates to support the nominee of the convention.

Col. Roosevelt tonight expressed confidence that his followers would control the convention.

"I am not certain," said Mr. Roosevelt, when asked about the plans of his friends for tomorrow, "just when the first test of our strength will come. It may be on the election of a temporary chairman."

Senator Dixon, head of the Roosevelt campaign, spent hours today talking with southern delegates, many of them negroes, and tonight reiterated his claim that many of the Taft delegates had come over to Roosevelt.

Coming in Bunches.
"They are coming to us in bunches," declared Senator Dixon. "You can put it down that we will control the organization and nominate Roosevelt. We will have at least 42 majority for Roosevelt for the nomination."

Mr. Roosevelt received in his headquarters scores of delegates, among them seven from Iowa instructed for Cummins who were declared to have pledged their support to the Roosevelt organization as well as two of the Taft-delegates from Hawaii and others.

Members of the Wisconsin La Follette instructed delegation were the last to call and their visit caused considerable comment. That some of the delegates, and probably all of them would support the Roosevelt organization, was reported.

Summarizing the events of the day, the Taft managers tonight issued a statement declaring that there had been no defections from the Taft forces and that Roosevelt managers' efforts to get votes was a confession of weakness.

"That President Taft has an ample number of votes for his renomination has been conceded by Col. Roosevelt throughout the day, says the statement. "This concession takes the strongest possible form—frank efforts to induce Taft delegates to violate their instructions. Another evidence is the fact that nothing is being done by the Taft forces to induce Roosevelt delegates to desert and go to Taft."

"Since coming to Chicago Col. Roosevelt has completely abandoned his strenuous insistence that all he wanted was the popular expression of the people. He now wants delegates who are instructed for Taft and wants them badly."

The campaign of blow and bluster is about ended. This is the third day the Roosevelt people have tried to cause a stampede by misrepresentation of facts and claims of defection from the Taft ranks, and for the third time it has failed.

The Roosevelt delegation from California today sent to each delegate to the convention and to each national committeeman a statement concerning the fourth California district.

CANST THOU NOT REST, O CITY?
Canst thou not rest, O city?
That liest so wide and fair;
Shalt never an hour bring pity,
Nor end be found for care?

Thy walls are high in heaven,
Thy streets are gay and wide,
Beneath thy towers at even
The dreamy waters glide.

Thou art fair as the hills at morning,
And the sunshine loveth thee,
But its light is a gloom of warning,
On a soul no longer free.

The course of gold are about thee,
And thy sorrow deepens still;
One madman within and without Thee,

One battle blind and shrill.
Ah! the crowds that forever are Flowing—
They neither laugh nor weep—
I see them coming and going
Like things that move in sleep.

Care sits in many a fashion,
Grows gray on many head,
And lips are turned to ashens
Where years have right to red.

Canst thou not rest, O city,
That liest so wide, so fair;
Shalt never an hour bring pity,
Nor end be found for care?
—Archibald Lampman.

"Home, sweet home," hummed the thin citizen softly. "There's no place like home. Now ain't that a fact?"
"Do you advance that as an abstract proposition?" inquired the fat citizen cautiously. "Or are you trying to get me interested in some home that you have for sale?"

BILL AIMED AT WOOD VETOED BY TAFT

CONGRESS CRITICIZED FOR AT-TACHING SUCH CLAUSE TO SUPPLY ACT.

House Military Committee Chairman Declares Executive Misstates Facts.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—President Taft today vetoed the army appropriation bill carrying a provision to legislate Major General Wood out of office as chief of staff. The president returned the bill to the house with a sharp message on the propriety of attaching special legislation to an appropriation bill. Chairman Hay of the house military affairs committee, one of the leading sponsors for the special feature, retorted with a public statement in which he charged the president with misstating facts concerning the bill in his veto message and alleged the president had vetoed it to pave way for a veto of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which provided for abolishing the commerce court. President Taft has told friends he will veto that bill also.

Now the army bill rests in committee and the army appropriation for the coming year will be provided for unless it is passed without the feature to which President Taft objected or unless a resolution extending the present appropriation to next year is put through. While the president did not mention Major General Wood by name, he pointed out that the limitations imposed upon incumbent of that office by the terms of the bill would have disqualified many of the army's most brilliant officers. He also objected to the provisions which have removed officers of the Philippine constabulary, the Panama Canal work and the bureau of insular affairs.

"The fact that a single provision of the bill can cause such serious consequences," said the president, "offers further evidence of the wisdom of a method which deprives legislation of its useful safeguards of scrutiny and discussion."

The president condemned the bill's provisions changing the enlistment term from 3 to 4 years, calling them contrary to enlightened military policy and declaring they would make impossible the establishment of a proper reserve. The proposed commission to report on the policy of army posts was criticized by Mr. Taft as obstructing rather than furthering solution of a difficult problem.

There would be a deficiency under the bill in the pay of the army alone of more than $2900. The economy claimed for the bill, the president said, was arrived at merely by failure to appropriate more than $5,000,000 which would be needed before the end of the coming year.

CLEBURNE MAN BUYS WACO LIVERY BUSINESS

J. D. Newman of Cleburne, is one of Waco's latest acquisitions, having recently moved here from the city to the north. The family of Mr. Newman will follow him in August and make this city their home.

Mr. Newman has purchased the livery business at 815 Franklin street, formerly owned by the C. T. Jackson Livery Company and has just finished restocking the stable throughout with fresh, stylish horses and new Babcock buggies. Mr. Newman is a fanatical horseman and has some fine specimens among his new lot. Babcock buggies are known the world over for their excellent construction and stylish lines, and will surely prove a drawing card for any business. Mr. Newman is one of Cleburne's best citizens and will find a hearty welcome in Waco.

ATTENTION, AUTOMOBILISTS.
The McLennan County Automobile Association has established a station at 505 Franklin street, where you can get first-class gasoline, and full measure, for 10c per gallon.

If you are not a member of this club, it will be well for you to see the secretary, Dr. Black, at 505 Austin street, and give him your application.

R. B. SPENCER, President.

A SPIDER'S LARVA.
There is a species of American spider which haunts evergreen trees and catches its prey by means of lasso.

The web of this spider is triangular in form, consisting of four longitudinal lines and a large number of cross fibers connecting them. Two corners of the triangle are attached to twigs, but the other corner, which terminates in a single thread, is held by the spider perched on a neighboring twig. When a fly strikes the web the spider loosens his hold and the elastic thread instantly entangles the victim.—Harper's Weekly.
